A croupier, a man in a white shirt and patterned vest, is managing a roulette game. He is standing behind a large, curved table covered with a purple and yellow felt. The table has a roulette layout with various betting areas and numbers. Several players' hands are visible, placing bets on the table. A large, rectangular tray containing many small, colorful chips is in the center of the table. In the background, other casino tables and players are visible, creating a busy atmosphere.
