

A round wooden table with a green felt top, used for card games. The table is cluttered with playing cards, a deck, and other game-related items. The cards are scattered across the felt, including a large stack of cards in the center, several face cards, and various suits. There are also some small, light-colored rectangular objects, possibly markers or chips, scattered around. The table has a thick wooden rim and is set in a room with other furniture visible in the background.
