The screenshot shows a presentation slide on the left and a terminal window on the right. The slide has a black background with the word 'TECH' in large, white, block letters. A red lightning bolt strikes through the letters. Below the logo, the text 'EtSash International Security Solutions' is written in a smaller, white font, followed by 'The cyber experience' in a smaller, italicized font. The terminal window on the right has a black background with green text. It displays a list of system files and directories, including /etc, /usr, and /var, with a green cursor at the bottom.
