A cartoon illustration depicting a scene of communication breakdown. On the left, a man in a black suit and blue tie stands looking towards the right. In the center and right, two men are shown in a state of intense anger or frustration. The man in the center, wearing a grey sweater and blue pants, is shouting into a large, old-fashioned mobile phone. The man on the right, wearing a red shirt and dark pants, is also shouting into a similar mobile phone while holding a large white ball. Above them are three speech bubbles: the first contains a red question mark, the second contains a fish and a large red 'X', and the third contains a screaming face, symbolizing the failure of their communication.
