A world map with a dark background, showing the outlines of continents. From a central point on the left (representing the Atlantic Ocean), a dense fan of multi-colored lines (red, orange, yellow, green, blue, purple) radiates outwards across the map. These lines connect to various circular nodes of different sizes and colors (white, yellow, orange, green, blue, purple) located primarily in North America, Europe, and Asia. The lines and nodes represent a global network or data flow.
