A group of people, including several men and one woman, are gathered around a large, colorful board game set up on a street stall. The game board is circular and divided into various sections with different colors and patterns. A yellow and white striped barrier is placed across the game. In the background, a red banner with white Chinese characters "安全管理无禁区" (Safety Management has no禁区) is visible. The scene is outdoors, likely at a fair or market.
