A close-up photograph of a green, rectangular, carved stone pendant. The pendant features two vertical columns of Chinese characters in a stylized seal script. The top column reads '戒' (Jie) and the bottom column reads '善' (Shan), which together mean '戒善' (Jie Shan), a Buddhist term for 'virtuous restraint' or 'good conduct'. The pendant has a small hole at the top for a cord and a larger hole at the bottom. It is being held by a person's hand, with fingers visible on the left and right sides. The background is dark and out of focus.
